

20 Ideas to Celebrate 20 Years of The Dot

Dot Attire. Dress in dots or even create dot shirts with fabric markers.

Read The Dot. There are many ways to share the story. Set up a Dot Day storytime in the library or create a community video of different people reading The Dot.

Dots on film. Film your version of The Dot and share with the world.

Decorate a blank piece of paper with 20 dots. Fill the page with dots of all shapes, colors and sizes. Don't forget to sign it!

Throw a birthday party! Bake a round dot cake and decorate it with 20 candles. Can you write your own Happy Birthday DOT Song?

How many DOTS are in the box? Open a box of Candy DOTS and count what is inside. What can you do with the DOTS? Using toothpicks can you make a strong tower or a bridge?

Chalk Dots. Fill the sidewalk or driveway with 20 chalk dots.

How will you make your mark? Write how you will make a difference in your home, school, or community and then dot up the paper.

Make a 3D Dot. Download the Quivervision app and Dot Day template and make your mark move!

Mail a dot. Write an encouraging letter to someone on dot stationery that you created.

Dot Gallery. Celebrate dots by creating a student gallery of dots in a classroom or the hallway of the school.

Start a Sidewalk Rock Caterpillar. Paint a rock with encouraging words and line it up on the sidewalk. Then invite others to add their painted rock to the caterpillar.

Share a Story. Visit your local senior center and interview a senior or how they made their mark in the world or encouraged another person.

20 Dots. Encourage your community (school, library or town) to create 20 signed dots and post them around the town for everyone to enjoy.

Create a Dot Dance. There are many ways to move. Pick your favorite song and record a Dot Dance music video.

Wearable Dots. Create a Dot Day bracelet with different color beads.

Spot the dot. Explore the classroom, library, or community for dots. Snap a photo and create a dot collage.

Sign up for International Dot Day!

Community Service Dots. One way to make your mark is to help your community. Select a community service project to do on Dot Day.

Dot Time Capsule. Fill a time capsule with important moments from this Dot Day that will be opened in 20 years!

@internationaldotday

@dotclubconnect

www.InternationalDotDay.org
Art by Peter H. Reynolds